VI Our time as we go
 We know, our world will change

 He says that I'm OK?

Yes ~~Driving~~ & Jumping ~~Suspense~~
 Jumping the mountain range Escaping the railroad Railroad to Hell & Maine

Chorus Why she says she's on her own I'll be back on the phone Taken her own takes alone ~~... ..~~ at the game

Yes You come from nothing ~~... ..~~ ^{Facing the world}

 She's just a birthmark Birthmark the shape of mine

Chorus And its cold & it's cold And its cold when you're near Cold when you're hearing the bottom

A Winter Tale
BOBBY LONG
ATLANTA

And you, liar, teller of tall tales: you trample
all the Lord's commandments
underfoot, you murder, steal, commit adultery, and afterward break into tears, beat your breast, take down your guitar and turn the sin into a song. Shrewd devil, you know very well that God pardons singers no matter what they do, because he can simply die for a song... **

RAY LAMONTAGNE

“And you, liar, teller of
tales: you trample
all the Lord’s
underfoot, you murder, you commit adultery, and afterward weep into tears, beat your breast, and say, Alas, I have done nothing! Turn the sinners into a song. Shrewdly say, Very well that God punished them, for they did not repent, because they did not believe that they would die for their sins.”
